Berlin Election Result Rebuke To Soviet Policy

Over 86 Per Cent Of West Berlin Eligible Voters Cast Ballots

VOTERS DEFFY RED THREATS IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—(INS)—German Social Democrats, arch-foes of Communism, walked away with the west Berlin elections today in the most decisive popular rebuke dealt Soviet policy in Europe since World War II.

A total of 1,367,972 Berliners—86.2 per cent of all those registered—defied Soviet threats and scorned Soviet blandishments to go to the polls Sunday. Almost two-thirds voted for the social democrats, chief target of Russian wrath.

Post-War Example
Banned in the Soviet zone and boycotted by the Communists, the West Berlin elections were the only post-war example of the secret ballot behind the iron curtain. The rousing reception given the polling by the Germans in the face of repeated Soviet intimidation attempts showed the determination of Berliners to preserve the island of democracy western occupation of Berlin makes possible.

Complete unofficial returns gave social democrats 64.5 percent of the total vote. Conservative Christian Democrats won 19.4 per cent, and rightist liberal democrats 16.1 per cent.

(The Moscow newspaper Pravda charged the western powers used "every means of propaganda and pressure" to compel western Berliners to vote.)

Communists Losing
The returns perhaps showed that Soviet attacks have been an asset to the social democrats. In 1946 they obtained only 48.7 per cent of the total votes, compared to 64.5 today.

Communists, who gathered only 19.8 per cent in 1946 obviously could not have done as well if they had participated in this year's election. They failed to vote—many because they were ill or have left Berlin.

Pa Newc Observes

Mike Hrycyk of R.D. 1, Poleski Township, reports that he brought down a buck near Ludlow, Pa., during last week.

An innovation in trucks was observed by Pa Newc in the city on Saturday evening. The motor of the truck sat directly behind the driver as he sat in his cab. To look at the motor or repair it, a hydraulic hoist lifts the cab forward as though it were being lifted off the chassis entirely. The system enables workmen to get at the motor readily without being cramped.

Very few of the new half dollars bearing the likeness of Benjamin Franklin are in circulation yet despite the fact that they were minted and put in service many months ago.

Another heavy fog blanketed the local district on Sunday morning, which was as bad or worse than that experienced on Saturday morning, according to local residents who had to get out in it.

A. J. Collingwood, Tempelana avenue; Clair Weaver, Tempelana avenue; and John Snyder of Garfield avenue have returned from Warren county where they were successful in getting an extremely large buck. The deer, shot by Mr. Collingwood, according to the game warden, was the largest secured in that area. It has a spread of 18 inches. The weight was approximately 200 pounds. All the men are B. & O. employees.

Huge Battle In China Reported Nearer Nanking

Chinese Communists Hurl 10,000 Troops At Kiangyan Defenses

ATTACK IS ONLY 70 MILES FROM NANKING

NANKING, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Chinese Communists today hurled a spearhead of 10,000 troops at Kiangyan, only 70 miles northeast of Nanking in the first major effort to blast the Nationalist defense line before the capital.

Reports from the battlefield said that Communist artillery has already leveled towns on the periphery of the Kiangyan defense bastion.

Government sources said that Nationalist troops are still clinging to the inner defense of the city. Reinforcements rushed.

Powerful government reinforcements were said to be rushing to the defense of Kiangyan from Yang Chow, 30 miles to the west. Loss of Kiangyan would permit the Red troops under Gen. Li Yui to penetrate to Yangtze, only 50 miles north of Nanking.

Earlier, the Communists had claimed capture of two other towns on Nanking's northern approaches.

The Nationalists, however, countered with an assertion that Red troops had been thrown into retreat from Kuchin, 120 miles north-west of Nanking.

Temperature Drop Tonight Forecast

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Happy Pittsburghers saw the sun briefly today for the first time in nearly 72 hours, but any elation was dispelled by the weatherman's forecast for Western Pennsylvania.

Some sleet is expected in the northern section of the area and rain changing to snow was predicted for the mountain ridges to the east.

Although Western Pennsylvania will miss the worst part of an oncoming western blizzard, temperatures were to drop steadily all day and may go as low as the mid-20s tonight.

Rain Sunday night, followed by strong winds, drove off the heavy fog which had covered the Pittsburgh district for three days.

Supreme Court Grants Review In Jap Sentences

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Supreme Court today granted a review of the death sentences meted out to Gen. Kenji Doihara, 65, and former Premier Koki Hirota, 77, convicted Japanese war criminals.

The high tribunal's vote was 5-4. The original vote was 4-4, with Associate Justice Jackson abstaining. This would have meant denial of the review. Jackson then decided to take part in a second vote, casting his ballot in favor of the review.

Some Survivors In Plane Crash

Not Known How Many Of 37 Aboard Survived Pacific Ocean Crash

(BULLETIN)

HONOLULU, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The navy reported today that a navy PBV was circling over an unknown number of survivors of a C-54 transport "ditched" about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii.

How many of the 37 men survived the crash will not be known until daylight, the navy said. The PBV was attracted by two flares, one late last night and a second early today.

A B-29 Superfortress hunting for the four-engine craft reported sighting the flare late last night and said it had dropped a liferaft.

Plane and surface vessels were scouring the vast expanse of the Pacific ocean in an effort to locate possible survivors of the missing aircraft.

The transport was one of five C-54's ferrying air force personnel to Spokane, Wash., from a 90-day training tour on Okinawa when its pilot flashed an SOS at 10:15 a. m. (Continued on Page Six)

Report Truman Against Billions Aid To China

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Diplomatic quarters reported today that President Truman has decided against asking Congress to approve a three-billion dollar aid program sought by Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

A proposal for aid to this extent was given the United States by Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo and will be presented to the President by Madame Chiang personally.

To Carry Plea To Truman
The glamorous first lady of China will carry her plea to Mr. Truman early this week in a face-to-face conversation. The President is expected to receive her at his temporary Blair house residence in a social rather than official manner.

Top administration advisers are said to be generally adverse, however, to aiding China to the extent of three billion dollars.

The top problem in their minds is said to be one of possible involvement with Russia, which is reported to be quietly but effectively supporting the Communist forces now driving into North China.

Must Dissolve Puppet Regime Russia Is Told

West Bluntly Tells Russia That 'Rump' Government Must Be Eliminated

DEMAND FREE BERLIN ELECTIONS

By PIERRE J. HUSS (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The west bluntly told Russia today that the Berlin crisis can be solved only if the Soviets revive the democracy they have killed in their sector of the blockaded city.

The U. S., Britain and France joined in demanding that the Russians dissolve the puppet regime they have set up in their area and agree to city-wide free elections.

Crisis Intensified
A note to Security Council President Fernand Langenhove of Belgium and small-power currency experts, the Allies pointed out that Russia has intensified the crisis "in disregard of the expressed wish of the president of the council."

The note, delivered on the eve of the Berlin elections but only made public, was reinforced by the overwhelming repudiation of Soviet policy expressed in the tremendous western sector vote. It listed in detail every step taken by the Russians since August 30, when a compromise seemed probable. These steps, the note continued, "pose new and grave problems for the solution of Berlin's currency difficulties."

To Guide Neutrals
Prepared by Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the U. S., Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain, and Alexandre Parodi of France, the note is intended to guide the "neutral" experts in the compromise attempt.

"The new problems have arisen because of interference on the part of the Soviet authorities with the normal working of the Berlin constitution."

"They could even now be set aside if the Soviet authorities were to disown the unconstitutional body created in the Soviet sector on November 30, 1948, and in conformity with the constitution, permit elections to be held on a city-wide basis."

But the tone of the note indicated, that unless the Soviets do this quickly, the West will give up hope of a compromise and decide on a new policy.

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The House Un-American activities committee announced today that former Undersecretary of State Francis B. Sayre will be subpoenaed for testimony spy hearings opening tomorrow.

The announcement was made by Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.), a committee member who also said the group will "call" Undersecretary of State Lovett and that former Undersecretary Sumner Welles will be "invited" to appear.

Grand Jury Called
Attorney General Tom Clark simultaneously ordered the New York special grand jury back into special session today to investigate the new spy evidence.

The jury is the same body that indicted 12 top Communist leaders earlier this year on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the government by force.

Nixon declared that a "considerable number" of documents were taken from Sayre's office and microfilmed for possible delivery to Russia. The microfilms were found in a hollowed out pumpkin on the (Continued on Page Six)

Special Federal Grand Jury Renews Probe Into Pre-War Red Espionage

INVESTIGATOR IS ALSO TO TESTIFY

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—New York's special spy-probing federal grand jury was reconvened today to investigate new evidence of pre-war Communist espionage in Washington and the first two major witnesses called in to testify were Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers.

Hiss is the former State Department official linked by Chambers to an alleged Communist underground active in Washington before World War Two.

Jury Called Back
Chambers, confessed former Communist courier and now a senior editor of Time magazine, and Hiss both appeared at the Federal building early today and the juryman wasted no time in preparing to question them.

The Federal grand jury, due to be disbanded December 15, was hastened back into session following the discovery last week of new evidence which the House Un-American Activities Committee says giving shocking proof of Russian spying in the State Department in the late 1930's.

Appearance of Hiss at the Federal building was the first knowledge that he had been subpoenaed to testify, along with Chambers, before the New York jury which earlier this year indicted the twelve top Communist party officials in America.

Also on hand ready to testify today was William A. Wheeler, invited (Continued on Page Two)

Another Soviet Move Rejected

U. N. Political Committee Turns Down Demand For Action On African Colonies

PARIS, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The U. N. Political Committee rejected a Soviet demand today for immediate discussion of the future of Italy's former African empire.

By a 32 to 8 vote, with 9 nations abstaining, the 68-nation body sustained U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles' argument that U. N. attention should be turned to the Korean problem.

Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik declared that Korea was "too complicated" a problem for the assembly in its last week. Ukraine Delegate Dmitry Manuilsky added that without the "true, genuine voice of Korea"—the Soviet-sponsored regime of North Korea, discussions would be fruitless. But the committee backed the American position, and dropped the problem of Italy's former colonies for the time being. It prepared to hear a U. S. demand for support of the government of South Korea, established by American-supervised free elections.

Violation Of Truce Reported

Palestine Committee Of U. N. Called To Consider Some Claims Of Truce Violations

PARIS, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The U. N. Security Council's Palestine committee was called into special session today to consider reports of Israeli truce violations in the Near East.

U. S. Marine Gen. William Riley, chief U. N. truce observer, reported that the Israelis failed to evacuate Bersheba and refused to open the Faluja pocket, where an Egyptian garrison is trapped.

The sub-committee is empowered to recommend sanctions against either party in the Palestine dispute.

Filing of the charges was seen as complicating the Jewish state's application for membership which will be considered by another Security Council sub-committee later this week.

Seeks Larger Share Of Babe Ruth Estate

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The oldest adopted daughter of the late George Herman (Babe) Ruth today prepared to exploit every possibility for an amicable settlement of her claims for a larger share of the $500,000 estate of the late home run king.

Harold T. Gerrity, who is serving as counsel for 28-year-old Mrs. Dorothy Ruth Sullivan, said that no court action is being contemplated but added:

"My client definitely feels that she is being treated unfairly under the terms of the will although she signed papers for it to be probated at a time when she was overcome by grief."

Mrs. Sullivan was left a $5,000 cash bequest which she had refused. Income from a $400,000 trust fund goes to Clark Mae, Ruth's widow, until her death.

Thereafter, under the terms of the will which was made shortly before the Babe's death in August, 45 per cent of the estate goes to Mrs. Sullivan and 45 per cent goes to another adopted daughter.

The remaining 10 per cent goes to the home run king's greatest friends, the kids of America, in a special foundation fund.

Gerrity said that Mrs. Sullivan was in straitened circumstances and was asking not only for additional personal property such as photographs and other mementoes which she claims have not been returned to her.

Despite some indications of an easing of the official tension in Nanking, there was an inclination on the part of foreign military experts to discount optimistic Nationalist reports.

The Shanghai city government has ordered all Chinese and foreign newspapers and news agencies to submit their stories to police for censorship before publication.

The order, which reportedly had its origin in the ministry of the interior, threatened cancellation of the licenses of agencies and newspapers which do not comply.

The heads of the foreign news agencies planned a meeting to consider the order.

by the city assembly. Reuter, an ex-Communist, is anathema to the Soviet, who vetoed his selection as mayor after the 1946 elections.

Western occupation officials and political leaders hailed the election of the west sector government by one million 400 thousand Berliners in a secret ballot with the naming of the "rump" Soviet-sponsored government by 150,000 unenthusiastic hand-raisers last Tuesday.

Berlin's present mayor, Frau Louise Schroeder, declared:

"The election was a fight for freedom and democracy from which all the world will benefit."

One immediate result of the overwhelming anti-Communist vote appeared to be the strengthened determination of 5,000 electrical workers in the Soviet zone to strike unless Russian-sector police are removed from the giant Bewag power plant.

Workers gathered to vote on the planned strike, first of its kind against the Soviet authorities, which would deprive the entire Russian sector of electric power.

Reduce Valuations

Further, council acting as a board of appeals and tax revision, upon motion of Streets Director Gibson, adopted a motion reducing the assessed valuation on all properties in the city five per cent, which leaves the total assessed valuation on property at approximately $51,285,370.

The tax levy for 1948 was 15 mills. Next year it will be 10, divided as follows: for general revenue purposes, 8 mills; for sinking fund purposes, 1½ mills, and for the public library, one-half mill.

Included in the appropriation is $74,385, for capital outlay.

investigator for the House un-American Activities Committee and former secret service agent.

Wheeler carried a brief case in which, he told reporters, were microfilms of "important State Department and Navy Department documents."

These films presumably were at least part of those taken last week from a pumpkin on the Maryland farm of Chambers, now a top editor of Time magazine.

Order of Attorney General

Today's reconvening of the New York grand jury by order of Attorney General Tom Clark.

It marked the opening phase of a new two-pronged government inquiry into charges that top secret State, War and Navy Department films were filmed by a Communist agent in the late 1930's and copied on microfilm.

Tomorrow, the second phase of the inquiry gets under way in Washington when the House un-American Activities Committee goes back into extraordinary session.

Tells of Discovery

Just before he entered the grand jury room, Wheeler described to newsmen how the microfilms were discovered.

Wheeler said Chambers led them to the pumpkin and said: "That's what you're looking for."

Wheeler quoted Chambers as saying that the films had been in the pumpkin one day.

Thomas J. Donegan, special assistant U. S. attorney general, refused to comment on resumption of the investigation except to say there were "a number of witnesses" and that the jury might be in session "all week."

Neither Hiss nor Chambers would comment to reporters as they entered the room.

Russell P. Kramer, head of the FBI in Denver, said Givens readily admitted that he beat the two men to death at a farm near Baden, Pa., owned by the Mount Gallitz-Horne family.

The ex-convict said he "couldn't remember" the names of the two men he killed after a long argument over "who was boss" at the farm, where all three worked.

SOCIETY & Clubs

VOWS EXCHANGED AT CHURCH CEREMONY

St. Lucy's church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Bertha Ona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ona, of 114 West Wabash avenue, and Andrew James Lombardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lombardo, of 206 West Wabash avenue, at 9 a. m. on November 27. Blooming potted plants, palms and ferns flanked by lighted candles flanked the altar. Rev. Sebastian Ippolito officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white satin trimmed with lace ruffles and with an overskirt of lace. Her fingertip tulle veil fell from a seed pearl crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and bracelet.

As her sister's matron of honor Mrs. Nancy Padula wore a fuchsia taffeta gown with matching head-dress and mitts and carried yellow roses. Bridesmaids the Misses Carmella Coll, Laura DeAngelis, Betty Russo, Margaret Russo and Dorothy Ona, wore pastel green taffeta gowns and carried pink roses. Robert A. Padula served the groom as best man and ushers were Frank DeMitta, Tony Di-Thomas, Nick Fiorenti, Jerry Nocera and Elio Pecarra.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast for the immediate families and relatives in St. Margaret's hall. In the afternoon a dinner was served to 65 guests in a local tearoom followed in the evening by a large reception in St. Margaret's hall.

WHITE-PORTER

CHURCH WEDDING

Beautiful in every detail was the open church wedding of Miss Shirleen Ann White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry White, 417 East Garfield avenue, and Delbert Hayes Porter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hayes Porter, Sr., 923 North Cedar street, which took place Saturday, December 4. Using the double ring service, Rev. Robert H. Mayo officiated at the exchange of vows which was performed at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at First U. P. church in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a gown of white French marquisette, fashioned with fitted bodice, full skirt and two flounces, caught with lace, and ending in a beautiful train of flounces. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a heart-shaped crown, trimmed with lilies-of-the-valley. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, tied with ribbon streamers, knotted with stephanotis.

Mrs. Ralph Cratty, aunt of the bride, who served as matron of honor, was attired in a turquoise taffeta gown, fashioned with a bertha, tiny buttons down the front of the fitted bodice and full skirt, trimmed with rows of cording. She wore a matching crownless hat and carried an arm bouquet of American beauty roses.

The Misses Glenna Doerr, Phyllis Anderson, Laura Beulkey and Geraldine Wilson acted as bridesmaids, while the Misses Bonnie Lou White, the bride's sister, and Carol Ann Grannis were junior bridesmaids.

Miss Doerr's gown was of pink taffeta, made with jewelry neckline, fitted bodice and hoopskirt, caught at the bottom with bows and ruffles. Miss Anderson wore an aqua gown, fashioned with sweet-heart neckline and bustle back, trimmed with lace. Miss Beulkey's gown was of dusty rose taffeta, trimmed with lace, fashioned with a bustle. Miss Wilson wore a pink brocade hoopskirt gown. They carried arm bouquets of yellow roses and pompons.

Junior bridesmaids wore matching yellow taffeta hoopskirt gowns, and yellow poke bonnets and mitts. Their flowers were pink roses arranged in arm bouquets.

Ralph Cratty, the bride's uncle, served as best man, while Gerald N. White, brother of the bride, Ralph Doerr, William Senggeorge and Paul Logue acted as ushers.

Nuptial music was offered by Mrs. John F. Love, organist, who accompanied Miss Betty Aubel, soloist, who sang "My Hero" and "Because" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" immediately following the exchange of vows. Palms and vases of white chrysanthemums decorated the tastefully arranged altar.

After a congratulatory period in the vestibule of the church, a reception for 200 guests took place in the Ecclesian club, where dancing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served buffet style with Mrs. Walter Ryan, Mrs. Houseman Koonz, Mrs. William Dugan, Mrs. Raymond Emery, Mrs. George Walder, Mrs. Lester Bratschle, Mrs. Archie Dewberry, Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. William Metz and Mrs. Richard Christy acting as aides.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The United Nations plan to set up international rule in Jerusalem promised today to evoke a storm of protest from Israel although a compromise acceptance is probable if definite guarantees can be given for protection of the Jewish population.

A resolution adopted by the U.N. Political Committee provides for demilitarization of the whole city.

This alone probably will not satisfy Jewish leadership. A demand doubtless will be made for a full-protected corridor linking isolated Jerusalem with the balance of Israel.

In any case, it seems certain that the Jews will not consent to lay down their arms until they are entirely assured that the residents of the city are safe from molestation or attack.

Israel long ago agreed to internationalization of the old city. Earlier than that, when the U.N. adopted its partition resolution on Nov. 29, 1947, the Jews did consent to the general principle of neutral rule.

Chief Reasons

The present stand against placing modern Jerusalem under outside control is based chiefly on the following:

- 1—The Jews believe that a firmly entrenched Israeli military establishment is absolutely essential for safety.
- 2—The majority of the population of the new city—built within the past 100 years—is Jewish.
- 3—The world recoiled when Jews were under attack for weeks and months in the Holy City but no outside aid was forthcoming.
- 4—Israel regards Jerusalem as an integral, organic part of the new state.
- 5—The spiritual meaning of the city to religious Jews is of compelling importance.

In all the discussions about Jerusalem's future status, supporters of Israel recall the period this spring when Jerusalem was completely cut off from the outside world.

Arab armies severed the high-way leading from Jerusalem to Tel Aviv at points around the key-point of Latrun. Other Arab forces

Looking At Life

History does not record it nor has archeology dug out any spare parts.

But I am sure that in the ancient days of Athens and Rome they must have had taxicabs driven by philosophers such as the cabbies of New York City.

Nowhere else than in taxicabs could Socrates and Plato, Aristotle and Cicero have picked up such classic bits of wisdom as you can pick up any day in a Manhattan taxicab.

I had two choice philosophers driving me in New York yesterday.

One was standing in front of my doctor's office waiting for a fare. I hailed him and this is the conversation that ensued.

"Well, I was sick. Just went for a check-up today," was my reply.

"Being sick ain't so good," he commented, "but there's one thing good about being flat on your back. It kind of forces you to look up. The way we are goin' nowadays you're so busy looking right and left and in front and behind you that you don't get much of a chance to look up."

Since cab drivers usually look back at you when they do their philosophizing, and since we were on one of New York's busiest streets, we almost crashed into the car ahead of us as my caddy let go of this piece of philosophy.

However, I didn't get mad as I ordinarily would have.

Even if we did have a collision and I would be taken to the hospital and lie flat on my back again—wouldn't it give me a swell chance to look up, instead of to the left or right or ahead or behind?

Furthermore, I wanted to hear more of his philosophy. The fellow was wound up and I was getting my money's worth with every click of the meter.

"The way folks is going nowadays," he continued as the light changed and we went rolling again, "they orders four-minute boiled eggs and starts to raise hell with the water because he don't bring 'em in three minutes."

Then he started to dwell on the general subject of doctors.

"Too many of 'em treat you for one thing and you die from another. My doctor, when he treats me for pneumonia, I die from pneumonia."

I didn't tell him that I had heard the same story from Herb Shriner, the comedian, last week.

But why should I? Maybe Herb got the story from this same cabbie or from one of his colleagues.

The other driver whom I had yesterday wasn't talkative. He never opened his mouth until he almost ran over a woman who was crossing the street.

Then he turned around—without stopping, of course—and said with a sneer:

"Dames are dumb. What good are they except for being mothers?"

The Parent Problem

ARITHMETIC "READING" PROBLEMS

When I was a lad in the country school at about the fifth grade level there were three of us in the arithmetic class. The other persons were Meta Sosey and Charley Atkinson. Meta was older and smarter than we were.

We did our classwork in arithmetic at the blackboard. Meta in the center. When the teacher dictated "reading" problems, Charley and I always waited and watched to see what Meta did. If she added we added, if she multiplied we multiplied, and so on. When Charley and I added or subtracted we tapped with chalk against the board, making a sound similar to that made by chickens pecking grain from the barnfloor.

I knew the basic addition and subtraction facts by heart. I had always counted them out. I then supposed there were about a million of them, though I have learned since there are only a hundred. We had learned the multiplication facts by heart and we merely reversed these fast in division.

Reading Problems

Back to the "reading" problems. Several years later we had mental arithmetic. When I first learned to get the meaning of a verbal problem before attempting to solve it. We had each problem right before us in the book. Fortunately today not many teachers dictate verbal problems to children.

If your child in the fourth or fifth grade has trouble with verbal problems he may often try to solve the problem before reading it carefully. He may not even read it but just glance hastily from one number to another among the words and guess it is an add, subtract, multiply or "kuzinto" problem. You can help him by creating a serene atmosphere and inducing him to read the problems through carefully for meaning.

District School

In that district school we later took up denominate numbers, dealing with inches, feet, yards, gallons, quarts, pints, ounces and pounds. At the board we were set to changing inches to feet, gallons to quarts, ounces to pounds. We knew we should either multiply or divide as we did so. But we always watched to see what Meta did. By and by, one morning he

Hints On Etiquette

If a resident receives a casual note from her friend in a distant town, stating that a Mrs. So-and-So, an acquaintance of the friend's is moving to her city, she may simply call on the newcomer, without doing more unless she wishes.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

DEAR SANTA!

I am just a little girl not quite 7 years old. I have a little brother who is much younger than I. I'm thinking of little children who are hungry, and cold. And no doubt there are some that may even die.

Of course we like toys, and dolls, as other children do. But our hearts go out to the kiddies overseas. Instead of bringing presents to us that are new. The ones we've had for years are good enough for me.

If you happen to run short as you go from house to house. Remember, I'll be only too glad to help you out; But, if you do decide to come, be as quiet as a mouse. No one needs to know what it is all about.

May God bless all the kiddies, and Daddies and Mothers too. We are very thankful we live in the U. S. A. We still have freedom here, under the old Red, White & Blue. Our prayer is that the whole world will be free some day.

In closing let me say, be careful Santa dear. Don't forget those children who need help over there. Kindly tell them if you will, we are happy over here. That's because we in America, always give more than our share.

P. S.

One more thing I most forget, it's very important too. There are scores of other children here who are just like me. We would rather play with old toys, let them have the new. Until all the other nations can enjoy De-moc-ra-cy.

The Chinese Puzzle

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.—Key pieces to the Chinese puzzle are more apt to be found in simple home-truths than in high level foreign policy. Last week the following home-truths about China were being unofficially discussed in official Washington.

Come Off the Roof: Basic political unit in China is not the province or the state. It is the village and the home. Here is reason enough why so much American good-will goes over the heads of the Chinese people. We can express our feelings toward the British by coining over Princess Elizabeth's baby or toward the Russians by booing Stalin's picture in the newspapers. But our treatment of Madame Chiang Kai-shek on her American visit has no real meaning to the Chinese people. Good-will to China requires something like a person-to-person call. It requires an appeal of 400 million people on the ground-floor level of diplomacy.

Low Level Attack: Our State Department has begun a new, modest and little-publicized effort to get next to the Chinese people. The department recently transferred about 75 picked men from its foreign service to the United States Information Services. Most of these men have been brought back to Washington for an indoctrination course in public relations. They will be sent out again on a job which entails the "handling" of Americanism abroad. That is, they will "release" news stories and feature articles to foreign papers, arrange for guest speakers at clubs, schools and public gatherings, perform the general "contact work" which a good publicist does for his clients. Much fun can be poked at public relations work, but Eric Johnston recently showed how American salesmanship can get its foot inside unfriendly doors. Not all the new trainees will go to China. But indications are that State will send as many as the traffic and war conditions can bear.

Early Americanism: Chinese people cling to the Jeffersonian maxim: "The least governed people are the best governed." Both the Chiang regime and the Communist leaders have violated this principle in trying to take over China. What's needed seems to be a check-and-balance government which recognizes the Chinese sense of personal liberty and also the 20th century necessity for protective nationalism.

Something of the sort might be worked out in the form of an "Eastern Union" for the various small nations which in reality make up the nation we call China. Under any number of home-rule groups, all joined in a federal union. This would make possible a China Co-operation Administration, similar to ECA. It would also clear the way for a Pacific alliance in which the U. S. could become a military partner.

Brothers' Keepers: Chinese people, as many of our bailed-out flyers learned, are as kindly as the Good Samaritans. Their sense of brotherhood is fundamental and spiritual. But even at this late date the Chinese resent our "missionary" attitude, our assumption that they are a heathen benighted race. Government officials, recently back from China, say this in off-record conversations but seldom write it into their reports. Yet the missionary attitude is a prime reason why some of our envoys do not make friends for us in China.

Rah Rah Democracy: Left to itself, a Chinese village organizes for work and self-government in much the manner that if any Pilgrim Father did. These people need very little in the way of slogans and sermons on how to be freedom-loving. What they do need, from every first-hand account, is training in the gadgets of government. Graft in Chinese officialdom is as natural as rain because public business is conducted on the fee system. Nearly every public servant takes his "commission" out of the money which passes through his hands. Little sign of stigma is attached to the practice. One of China's big needs is American know-how in civil service training, contract-letting, bookkeeping and the like.

Almighty Dollars: Capitalism in China is an expression of rugged individualism gone wild. As it stands today, the Chinese profit system exhibits all the vices and few virtues of western free enterprise. Many businesses in China, from department stores to export firms, have made millions for their owners without increasing the buying power of the common man. Such industries as mining and cotton milling have had periods of great prosperity and passed on no benefits to the workers. Agriculture, which is 80 per cent of Chinese economy, operates largely as a landlord system which does not even have the saving grace of paternalism, such as existed in our own ante-bellum south and under the British squirearchy.

Sphinx's Riddle: Simplest of all truths about China seems to be that the people have two choices and need a third. They would like to repudiate both Chiang and Communism. It is not enough for the U. S. to back one of these forces and condemn the second. America, to solve the Chinese puzzle, must offer China something better than either of the present choices.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Investigation of the divorce racket in New York has solved the gift problem for many . . . 9,000 men are getting their old wives back for Christmas.

Under New York state law it takes two to get married, three to disrupt it, four to dissolve it and a fifth to handle the fees.

This is one of the few states which will condone anything in marriage except "who was that lady I framed you with last night?"

In Russia until recently a man had only to say "you are no longer my wife" and he was free . . . They had to do something to make communism popular.

Now when a Russian weds it is for life . . . the feeling is that anything less than a life sentence would undermine Soviet justice.

It Makes One Think

By PAUL GALLICO

Interrupt me if I am wrong, but it has seemed to me that of late a number of my respected colleagues in this craft have been waxing querulous over this King business. They have been enjoying a tweak at the tail of the British Lion and filling up columns deploring the hullabaloo over the birth of the royal child and the general uselessness of such anachronistic trappings as Lords, Dukes, Princes, Marquesses, et cetera, with a side sneer at our English cousins for standing in the rain to shout, "Huzzah for King George," or read a bulletin that their future king had arrived and let out his first royal yip.

Makes For Good Reading

It all makes for pretty good reading, especially enjoyed by Democratic snobs, which many of us are, and as snobs go we can sometimes be just as violent and objectionable as royal snobs. Also it is an easy target. Pointing out the utter uselessness of those royal vestiges of the feudal age that have come down to us is like shooting at a sitting bird from a resting position.

Me, I am not a King man, and can truthfully say that I am not impressed by inherited titles except as museum pieces. I like the way we do our business of government in the U. S. A. We vote a guy into office. If he's good at it he can go on working for us. If he isn't, whammo, next election we bust him one over the scalp with the old vote and out he goes and we don't have him around eating off us for a lifetime. It's sensible, civilized, practical, reasonably honest the way we conduct it, and that's for me.

Keeping Fingers Crossed

Nevertheless, as one who continues to study and be fascinated by the lessons of history, I am keeping my fingers crossed. I am not at all convinced just because we have managed to reach the 20th century that King and title worship has been eradicated forever.

The ancient Romans, you know, began with Kings until they grew up, tossed them out on their royal ears and established a Republic with more checks and balances against any one Joe assuming power than we have in our constitutional government today. If a guy so much as batted his eye at a flara or similar piece of hardware they took his head off at the neck but quick. It worked swell too. One small city possessed of this beautiful idea conquered all Italy and then the known world.

Later Was A Dead Pigeon

A few centuries later, however, the Republic was a dead pigeon. Rome not only was ruled by Emperors but the dead ones were pre-empted to Gods. You think the King business is dead today? Hitler made himself King of Germany. It always begins with dictatorship. The hereditary part of it comes afterwards when the aged, indispensable man bequeaths his son to the grateful nation.

The People's Revolution in Russia disposed of a Caesar and acquired an Emperor, an absolute ruler in the shape of Stalin. What is the difference whether you call him Premier, Emir, Caesar, Augustus, King, Shah or Kahn? The Russians even have a recent God in the remains of the late prophet Lenin whose tomb is sanctified and worshipped as were those of Justinian, Hadrian, Augustus and the Antonini, by official decree. In this day and age.

Let's Take Look At Home

Let's see how this miscreant used flourishes at home. As recently as 1921, there were some 650,000 parties who considered themselves 100% red-blooded, liberty-loving Americans, who in joining the Ku Klux Klan, swore personal fealty, loyalty and unwavering devotion to their "Emperor," William J. Simmons, who called himself Imperial Wizard.

We giggle at Lords, Dukes, Counts, etc., but hundreds of thousands of Americans join lodges where they rejoice in the titles of High Exalted Potentate, and Supreme Ring-tailed Keeper of the Sacred Scroll. And isn't it funny how we don't like to let a temporary title go, how many good citizens no longer working at it go around letting themselves be called Senator, Congressman, Judge and Colonel?

It giveth one to think.

State Police Say:

Perhaps you see the traffic picture in terms of smashed fenders and broken headlights, but the police see it in a much more realistic and a much more tragic light—in terms of broken and mutilated human bodies. One of the things that has contributed to the shocking death toll is a lack of proper attitude toward other drivers and pedestrians, and the attitude that "it can't happen to me." If you are one of those drivers who feel that an accident just couldn't happen to you, you are harboring a very dangerous illusion.

FIRST GREAT JOURNEY

For weeks 'twas talked over, I needn't explain: A child to go riding alone on a train! A journey to Buffalo! It would be fun, But always the questioning: "Should it be done?" To the aunt who would meet her, long telephone calls. Now Ellen Elizabeth's been to the Falls.

Excitement past telling! The suitcase to pack With care to make certain that nothing she'd lack. An eight-year-old traveler, lovely to see! The porter who promised that safe she would be. A journey that never monotony palls. Now Ellen Elizabeth's been to the Falls!

Well here's to the fellow whoever it is, Whose bride in the future she'll grow up to be. When he asks for her choice of a honeymoon trip By motor, by train, aeroplane or by ship, I'm telling him now, and I hope he recalls, That Ellen Elizabeth's been to the Falls!

The World and the Mud Puddles

PROBABLY MORE GUILTY

United States diplomatic quarters can hardly be blamed for feeling a sense of uneasiness and skepticism at the announcement that Soviet troops will be withdrawn from Korea by January first next. The announcement was accompanied by the suggestion that our own troops be withdrawn from the southern half of Korea at the same time. The puzzling thing is that the announcement was voluntary and without previous intimation of any intended evacuation.

When Britain announced its purpose to evacuate Palestine, the whole world took the announcement at its face value; the British are in the habit of making their word good. But experience has warned us that Soviet declarations do not always mean exactly what they say. It is possible that Moscow feels that it has entrenched Communism in Northern Korea sufficiently to assure a Communist government backed by a Communist Army. It is barely possible that the Soviets really mean to leave the Koreans to their own devices. It also is possible that the expense of occupation is proving burdensome in Russia's present financial condition.

Natural Question

The natural question is what the effect of Russia's withdrawal may have on Korea's internal situation. There is the possibility that with the evacuation of both Soviet and United States troops the northern and the southern Korea factions would enter into a contest for governmental supremacy which could lead to civil war. This, for a people who have waited so long for liberation from Japanese tyranny, would be a tragedy. If civil strife should develop on a large scale, it also would afford an excuse for

Assessments Up;
Taxpayers KickBessemer Assessor Equalizes
Taxes—Citizens Complain
To Commissioners

OTHER EVENTS

IN COURT HOUSE

Bessemer taxpayers are irate just now over the new assessments of property made by the county assessor, Ann Kinkeala. They have already met with the county commissioners and have held two public meetings in Bessemer.

According to the information available, Mrs. Kinkeala found wide discrepancies in the assessed values in Bessemer. Properties worth similar values were found to be assessed at various levels. Mrs. Kinkeala brought up some of the lower assessed properties to meet those of similar value which had been assessed lower.

It is probable the taxpayers will present their appeal formally to the commissioners meeting as the board of appeal.

TAXES DELINQUENT IN JANUARY

Taxpayers who have not yet paid their 1948 county taxes have until the end of the year to pay them before they go on the delinquent list. January 1 all unpaid 1948 taxes will be filed as delinquent which will add costs to the taxpayers.

ARE THESE PEOPLE HUMAN?

It sounds unbelievable to say so, but vandals are stealing wreaths and flowers from the county memorial on the court house lawn and also breaking lamps.

Many of the wreaths and bouquets placed at the base of the monument are those which have been sent by sorrowing friends when a deceased service man is brought back from the battle field for burial. The lights are there to illuminate the memorial shaft at night that all may see the beauty of the granite shaft honoring the war dead.

Despite the fact that this is a hallowed ground, despite the fact that the wreaths are a sorrowful reminder that some young man gave his life for his country, human turkeys are stealing them.

For such people it seems a mistake that any one would ever fight to protect them from anything.

THE FAMILY
SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

TOYS FOR CHRISTMAS

These days the stores are crowded with mothers and fathers, uncles and aunts buying toys which they hope will make Christmas exciting for the junior members of the family. And what a collection there is from which to select! Hopeful manufacturers flood the retail stores with all sorts of playthings.

How can one tell the gimmicks and gadgets from the toys? Which will be of lasting interest to children?

There are no simple answers but here are a few suggestions for those who are faced with the problem. First of all, for younger children, most mechanical toys are not likely to have much interest. Blocks, clay, dolls, crayons and other lasting toys are better. One should check to be sure that the paint on playthings is harmless—most of it is these days—and that there are no sharp corners and that they are sturdily made.

Many stores, too, have toy counselors who know what is suitable for the different age groups. It's worth while getting ideas from them.

Lawrence County
Farm, Home NewsMANURE REQUIRES EFFICIENT HANDLING

Efficient use of manure increases crop production, and at little expense. Over half the nitrogen and about three-fourths of the potash are contained in the liquid manure. This plant food in the liquid is the most soluble and is quickly available to plants, hence the most valuable.

The most practical means for getting the liquid manure back on the land is to soak it up in ample absorbent bedding, such as shredded corn fodder or chopped straw. A light layer of dry shavings or sawdust on the stall floor and gutters after cleaning, but before bedding the stable, helps absorb the liquid. Sawdust and shavings so used have no bad effect on the soil.

Much of the valuable nitrogen may be lost by volatilization from manure even after it is spread. One means of reducing this loss, and at the same time making the manure a better fertilizer, is to scatter one to two pounds of superphosphate per cow per day on the stable floor and gutters.

The granular type of phosphate is gritty and will not make the floor slippery when wet as does the fine grade. The use of phosphate is especially desirable if the manure is to go on where plenty of phosphoric acid is needed, such as potatoes, new seedlings, and alfalfa. Superphosphate also may have some sanitary value in the stable.

Handling and spreading the manure direct from the stable requires the least labor and entails the least loss of plant food. If daily spreading is impossible a covered shed with a tight floor will soon save its cost in reducing the loss of plant food. A well-bedded covered yard, where the livestock keeps the manure moist and compact until it can be spread, reduces fermentation and leaching losses.

November Was Warmer Month

November temperatures averaged 9.4 degrees above the normal, the figures of Baxter F. Johnson, U. S. weather observer here, reveal. It was also a little wetter than the normal with .84 inches of precipitation over the usual amount.

The mean maximum was 56.7 degrees, the mean minimum was 35.5 degrees and the mean or average was 46.3 degrees. The highest was 80 degrees on November 6, and the lowest was 26 degrees on the 18th and 25th of the month. Last year the highest was 60 degrees and the lowest was 9.

Last year the temperature averaged 1.2 degrees over normal and the precipitation was .13 inches above normal. Only traces of snow were noted during the month, whereas in November of 1947 there was a total fall of an inch and a half.

There were 16 days with 0.1 inches or more of precipitation, the greatest in 24 hours being .42 inches on November 6. There were five clear days, 17 partly cloudy and eight cloudy.

Tree trunks may be split open by excessively low temperatures.

PROPER MAKE-UP

In your application of make-up, do you strive to create a new face or merely try to give aid to nature's deficiencies?

Many of us would enjoy changing our faces. If possible, we would have Hedy Lamarrs or Greer Garsons. But unfortunately, we are stuck for life with the same old physiognomy that is presumed to be a mosaic of the various elements of our forbears. Sometimes the effect is good and sometimes not so good.

If we have the foresight to see our own deficiencies, we might with a little cleverness tone them down. Every woman, regardless of her beauty, is improved by make-up, properly applied.

After the glow and freshness of our first youth have passed, most of us must, to look healthy and attractive, give nature a little lift. It is a little lift, for too frequently it is overdone.

The tendency today is to emulate nature by carefully applied cosmetics and to avoid that "false face" look of a generation ago. Use a base of powder or one of the numerous cake make-ups, as you will, touch of rouge, mascara, and lipstick if you feel you need these. But don't make yourself look as if you had fallen face first into your beauty kit. The main idea of complexion aids is to help the wearer to improve her appearance. A touch of rouge, if you are inclined toward sallowness, will help tremendously. Choose a shade darker than your skin and apply it lightly. It is definitely not smart to put on an overdose.

The bride was attired in a navy blue suit with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias and white roses.

Mrs. Gerwin Thomas, as her sister's only attendant, wore a green suit, with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white pompons.

Gerwin Thomas served the groom as best man.

Dispensing with a reception, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Virginia and other points south and upon their return will reside in their newly furnished apartment on Ralph avenue.

Mrs. Hammers is a graduate of Union high school and is now employed in the plant office of the Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. Hammers attended Union high school also and served several years in the U. S. navy. He is employed at the Sharon Steel Co. in Lowellville, O.

FROM South Africa come these lion cubes, brought to New York by Miss June Fulton who, as her costume may suggest, is bound for Hollywood and a movie career. SAYRE AMONG THOSE CALLED IN SPY PROBE

Maryland farm of Whittaker Chambers, self-described ex-Communist agent.

Brought in by Sayre

The California congressman said further that he understood "it was Sayre who brought Alger Hiss into the State department."

Chambers accused Hiss of being a member of the pre-war Communist "underground" in Washington, which Hiss heatedly denied.

Sayre was undersecretary of state in 1938 and now is with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Commission.

Lovett is expected to give testimony regarding operations in the State department.

May Not Be Published

Welles will be asked to give his opinion as to whether publication of the microfilmed documents would damage the U. S. He was shown the documents Sunday and said there is a "serious question" whether they could be released.

Nixon said that some of them will be published and others withheld in the interests of security.

The hearings, for which Nixon was flown back by Navy plane last night from a Panama-bound steamer on which he was taking a vacation, are expected to provide another dramatic meeting between Hiss and Chambers.

Hugh J. Miller In Ellwood Hospital

Hugh J. Miller, R. D. 1, an employee of the state highway department, is recovering in the Ellwood City General hospital from injuries he received on December 2, while working on the New Castle-Ellwood road.

Mr. Miller failed to see an oncoming car in time while at his work and in his effort to get out of the way, slipped and fell with the car passing over his body. He received a fractured ankle, crushed ribs and shoulder on the left side and other body injuries. He is getting along well despite the seriousness of his injuries.

West Philadelphia Girl Is Killed As She Calls For Help

Ex-Convict Confesses Killing Of Girl Who Was Trying To Protect Her Mother

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Police said today that a 36-year-old ex-convict has admitted shooting to death a 15-year-old girl when she tried to protect her mother against his abuses in their west Philadelphia home.

The victim, Anna Clara DePiso, a high school sophomore, died instantly from a bullet which police said was fired by Dominick J. Palo, 36, a boarder in the DePiso home. Fifteen minutes later, the girl's brother Edward, 17, menaced the suspect with one of his own weapons.

Served Two Terms
Police said Palo has a police record dating back to 1923 and twice served terms in eastern penitentiary.

Detectives said Palo struck Mrs. Jennie DePiso, 36, last night when she refused to give him money. When the daughter picked up a telephone to summon police, Palo is said to have fired two bullets at the girl.

After the shooting, the brother went to Palo's room and removed a .32 revolver. Then he accompanied Patrolman Samuel Turner in a search for Palo.

Turner said he grabbed the gun away from the youth when they sighted the fugitive. Palo was booked on a charge of "homicide by shooting".

fore school Charley told me he had made a great discovery. While helping his father make cider and store it in gallon crocks and quart cans and pint cans he found that the larger measures held so many times as much as the smaller ones. "When you change to smaller measures you multiply," he said, "and when you change to larger measure you divide."

That night I went home and tried it out with water. Also I found the same simple rule as I measured with my father's square and weighed with his steelyards; we had no scales. Why that teacher didn't have us work out these simple rules I don't know. For the same reason, I suppose that so many teachers don't today.

Here's where we parents can help, obviously. Fortunately the boy or girl who at home is encouraged early to cook and bake from a recipe, getting simple practice at measuring, weighing and comparing quantities. See what may be done for making arithmetic meaningful to the child who at home makes things for fun with his hands, especially from wood, who has a home workshop. Russian intervention—after our own forces were withdrawn—and the introduction of a Soviet puppet government for all Korea. At the bottom of the Korean problem is the betrayal of Korea by the late President Roosevelt, who had given promises of unconditional freedom for the nation, only to appease Stalin by going back on his promise.

Simultaneous evacuation of Russian and United States forces may pose a problem which only the Koreans themselves can solve.

lineated and populations shifted by the U.N. Because of their experiences with Arabs in the Holy City the Israeli say they never can be satisfied with mere promises of peace although the present truce in Jerusalem appears to be favored by strict observance on both sides.

There is no question that from the topographical point of view, Jerusalem is sadly isolated and defenseless. Many miles of unpopulated desert surround it. And its considerable distance from the Mediterranean coast presents a never-ending problem of supply, especially in time of any crisis.

It is also true that large sums of Jewish money went into the building of modern Jerusalem. The Hadassah hospital and the Jewish university are the largest and finest in the world. Before this year's savage fighting heavily damaged them, there were fine hotels, department stores, banks and theatres in the modern area and the Jews are determined to rebuild and expand. Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok fears that international rule will provoke new, insoluble problems. These may be the price that Israel must pay for peace in the Middle East.

"CLEAN AND COMFORTABLE"
Someone said that cleanliness is next to Godliness.

Sometimes it is next to fussiness too.

Some housewives get so fussy about keeping clean that the family is not too comfortable.

Percy must not get his white collar soiled when he plays in the yard with Butch. Marilynne must keep her apron clean when she is allowed to play in the sand pile with Rosie.

We appear to have a tendency to overdo things in this country. If we make nine million we want ten. If we win a football game we want to win them all.

Sanitation and neatness and health and cleanliness are fine. There is such a thing as comfort too.

If a man's religion or lack of it makes him and his associates miserable, it is just too bad. If cleanliness is stressed so hard it makes people uncomfortable it is not too good.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Unity Baptist church met

Thursday at the home of Mrs. Kinsey McKnight for an all day meeting. About twenty ladies were present and spent the day sewing on garments and packing the Christmas box. A tureen dinner was served. The next meeting will be held in the basement of the church and will be a Christmas party.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pullum and sons of Struthers were recent guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Double.

Mrs. Don Turk, Harlansburg road, is reported on the sick list.

Elks Honor Dead In Sunday Service

Memory Of Departed Brothers
Is Honored In Annual Lodge Of Sorrow

Elks and their friends paid tribute to departed brothers Sunday night December 5.

The annual Lodge of Sorrow, held in the Elks' Home on North Mill street was attended by a crowd, with Rev. Ralph E. Hoven, camp, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, delivering the address.

In his address Rev. Hoven spoke on questions of the different religions of the world and what happens to the soul after it leaves the body, bringing out the fact that life is short and urged the brothers to use it wisely.

The Elks' Male Quartet presented a number of musical selections. Exalted Ruler Reuben O. Kennedy had charge of the services and with his officers presented the ritualistic work.

As each member stepped into the lodge he was handed a white carnation. During the service, the secretary called the name of each departed Elk, and the name was displayed on the memorial in the lodge room. The service was an impressive one.

Governor Duff Ends Vacation

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff returned to the state capitol today from a Florida vacation "feeling fine" and talking of his fishing luck.

He said his top catch was a 12-pound snook caught in brackish water but expressed pride in the eight bass, each weighing about 8½ pounds, which he took from Lake Okechobee east of West Palm Beach.

Junior Red Cross Plans Yule Treat For Ill Children

Children's wards of Lawrence county hospitals will not be overlooked by Santa Claus this year, according to Miss Emma N. Maxwell, supervisor of the county council of the Junior Red Cross.

In their Saturday morning meeting at the chapter house the council voted to purchase and decorate Christmas trees for the children who are confined to the three county hospitals during the holidays. In addition, the Junior Red Cross will supply many gifts, such as modeling clay, coloring books and crayons, that can be used throughout the year as well as at Christmas time.

Shirley Buckley presided at the meeting which of the council whose members also voted to take the Red Cross junior accident prevention course and to invite members of the Ellwood school safety patrol to take the same course.

Lois Tilton gave an interesting report on the Bynden Wood, Pa., Junior Red Cross camp that she attended this summer.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the more than 50 members present prepared books of cartoons for the patients of Deshon hospital.

Another China Ship Disaster Now Revealed

NANKING, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Chinese government sources disclosed today that 6,000 Nationalist refugees died in the world's greatest single ship disaster off Manchuria early in November.

The disaster, it was said, took place when Yinkow, Manchuria, was evacuated in the face of the Communist advance.

Boilers on the refugee ship were believed to have burst, leading to an explosion of ammunition carried on the vessel. All those on board, most of whom were soldiers, perished.

The disaster was disclosed on the heels of the sinking of the steamer Kiangya last Friday, when from 700 to 3,000 refugees lost their lives.

United States naval authorities have been asked to help determine whether the Kiangya, sunk by an explosion which ripped apart her stern, was demolished by Communist sabotage.

New Castle Y.T.C. Has Yearly Election

Also, plans were made for a party to be held at the Y.W.C.A. on December 30. Any young people of high school, who are interested, may attend.

U. P. PRAYER GROUP WILL GATHER TUESDAY

Women of the various U. P. congregations of New Castle and vicinity will assemble Tuesday morning, December 7, at 10:30 o'clock in Second church.

Using "Mountain Missions" as her theme Mrs. Manley Biers, of Third church, will serve as leader of the session while Mrs. Samuel Staats, of Highland congregation will lead devotions.

New Jersey Woman Dies In Colorado Of Polio Effects

Perilous Trip By Iron Lung From New Jersey To Denver Ends In Death

DENVER, Dec. 6.—(INS)—A 28-year-old New Jersey mother who travelled across the country by automobile with the aid of iron lungs has lost her valiant battle against infantile paralysis.

Mrs. Dorothy McKenna, mother of a four-year-old girl, died yesterday in Colorado General hospital at Denver after a perilous trip to Denver from her New Bedford, N. J. home.

The young mother was stricken with Poliomyelitis in 1945, just two weeks after her husband, John W. McKenna returned home from World War II.

U. S. Battleship Missouri Is Not To Be Retired

HAMPTON ROADS, Va., Dec. 6.—(INS)—President Truman laid out rest, in the strongest terms, a report that the mighty U. S. battleship Missouri—on which the Japanese surrender was signed in Tokyo Harbor—is going into mothballs.

The family reached Denver, Oct. 29 after overnight stops at Pittsburgh Dayton, O.; Springfield, Ill.; Kansas City and Salina, Kans. Mrs. McKenna seemed cheerful and not unduly tired after the cross-country trip. Denver doctors believed she was improved. But recently her condition had become worse.

At Leek, a manufacturing and market town in England, the churchyard, at the summer solstice, affords a view of the curious phenomenon, the sun appearing to set twice on the same day behind Cloud Hill to the west of the town.

No Cadillac announcement has ever been more significant than the one which appears on this page. For, this year, Cadillac presents its creative masterpiece—a wholly new V-type eight-cylinder engine—which is, beyond all doubt, the highest development yet attained in automotive power plants. ★ This great power plant has been twelve years in the building—for basic development work started in 1936. It has many unusual qualities which set it apart from all other creations of its kind. It is far more alert, powerful and responsive to the throttle—yet it affords an increase in gasoline economy of approximately twenty per cent. And the manner of its performance actually challenges the imagination. It is liquid smooth; it is quick and eager beyond all experience; yet the power application is so effortless that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. The car seems almost to move by automatic propulsion. ★ Even experienced Cadillac owners must put aside all previous conceptions of performance when they drive the 1949 Cadillac. It is a revelation—from slither start to slither stop. ★ There are, of course, many other advancements in addition to the history-making engine. There is new beauty in the front ensemble; there is a newly-designed, more attractive instrument panel, with all driving controls at your finger tips; and throughout the chassis and body will be found those characteristic refinements which result from Cadillac's unceasing search for perfection. ★ But the big Cadillac story, for 1949, is performance. It is not only the world's new standard—it is beyond the world's current conception.

Care Should Be Used In Sending Christmas Mail

Much Mail Ends Up In Dead Letter Office Postmaster Hanna Warns

INSTRUCTIONS ON MAILING GIVEN

There is one man who's going to receive several thousand cheery Christmas greeting cards this year—and is very unhappy about the whole situation. He has charge of the post office's undeliverable mail—"nixies", in the colorful jargon of the mail carriers.

Last year, the local post office played reluctant host to a large quantity of other people's holiday mail, left homeless because of faulty addressing. Nationally, the toll of undeliverable Christmas cards, letters and packages ran into the millions.

Carelessness Costly
Postmaster William R. Hanna points out that careless addressing spells trouble for the sender, as well as extra headaches for postal clerks at a season when they're already working around the clock to keep the holiday mails moving.

"Each year, thousands of long friendships suddenly turn chilly when an eagerly-awaited Christmas card or gift fails to arrive," he observes. So if you want to keep your colorful and warm-hearted Christmas greetings from coming to rest in the Dead Letter office this year, you'd better heed the postmaster's detailed advice for Yuletide mailings.

Affix stamps firmly. Don't just give stamps a lick and a pat—they may fall off en route. Patrons on rural routes, according to a new ruling, are to put stamps on their own letters. Rural carriers are not required to pick up letters which do not bear stamps, or to affix stamps when money is left for them.

Complete All Addresses
"Address plainly and completely," the postmaster emphasizes. "That means the full name, house number, street, name of city, zone number, and the state."

"Remember, much holiday mail is delivered by emergency carriers who haven't the faintest idea where 'The McCreary Family' lives 'On Oak Street.' There may even be two or three different carrier routes serving different parts of one street."

"Don't ever put 'City.' Write out 'New Castle, Pa.' If a Christmas card marked 'City' happens to slip into the wrong mail pouch, it may end up in the Dead Letter office in Los Angeles or Jersey City."

The postmaster recommends sending all Christmas cards by first-class mail which means with regular 3-cent stamps.

First-class mail is entitled to "directory service" by skilled post office clerks who will try to trace down addressees who have moved since you mailed your Christmas cards last year.

Only first-class mail will be forwarded from one address to the other or returned to the sender without collection of additional postage if the addressee is not located. It will come back, that is, provided you make sure to place your return address on each Christmas card you mail.

However, if you decide anyhow to mail your Christmas cards with 1½-cent stamps—keep your tongue in your cheek and off that flap! Third-class mail must not contain personal messages, although a hand-written signature is permissible. Only one effort is made to deliver it—and if the address is incorrect or incomplete, your cheerful but misdirected Christmas card will spend a lonely Yuletide in the Dead Letter office.

Mr. Hanna states that the cooperation of the public will greatly simplify the handling of Christmas mail, and will aid in effecting its prompt delivery.

Cars Sideswipe
In Sunday Fog

Car driven by Steven Ciszer, 22, of 608 South Ray street, and pick-up truck operated by Robert L. Zedaker, 27, of New Bedford, sideswiped at the bottom of the Highland Heights hill, Legislative route No. 37041, during the fog at 9:20 a. m. Sunday, according to state police.

Ciszer was over the center line and Zedaker swerved farther to the side of the road to avoid the collision. However, the cars sideswiped. Damage to the vehicles was not large.

Associated Artists Planning Party

Regular Meeting Is Held At Club Rooms On East Washington Street

Associated Artists of New Castle held their regular monthly meeting Friday, in the club rooms at 117 East Washington street. Vice President Fred Boley presided. Clyde Singer's demonstration at the last meeting was warmly praised. The benefits of periodic lectures and demonstrations by well-known artists were apparent in the enthusiasm. Further programs of this nature were thought advisable. Fred Alexander volunteered to write to various artists in the district to sound them out about appearing before the club. Ways of financing these programs were suggested but not acted upon. The subject of creating "honorary" members was introduced and debated. Opinions were so divided that no agreement seemed possible at this time and chairman Boley ordered the subject tabled for further debate at a future meeting. All members who planned to submit work to the Youngstown New Year Show were reminded of the December 12 deadline. Dr. Hugh Hart is still accepting applications for membership to Friends of Art. This society will hold a dinner December 14 in Youngstown. Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Japanese-American painter, will be the speaker. Mr. Kuniyoshi will be in the city to act as chairman of the jury for the New Year Show. There will be a party at the club some time during the month, possibly New Year's Eve, but plans are still pending.

Fred Alexander led the criticism of recent work. Those contributing were: Arberry Kuhlman, Fred Boley, Alvin Shenkan, William Kerkstesser and Alexander. A delicious spaghetti dinner was served at the conclusion of the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Shenkan and William Kerkstesser were in charge.

The next regular meeting will be January 7, 1949.

YOUNG DRIVER

HURT IN MISHAP

Angelo Gennaro, 19, of 1831 Hamilton street, received lacerations of the forehead, Sunday at 3:30 p.m. while driving his car near his home.

An auto wheel became loosened when his car hit a bump in the road. In losing control of the car it was forced off the road and struck a tree.

After treatment in the New Castle hospital, he was discharged.

Neshannock Auxiliary Has Benefit Event

Ladies of the Neshannock township fireman auxiliary presented its first bazaar and jamboree recently in the Ecclesian club on South Jefferson street, which proved highly successful, according to Mrs. Riley Ballard, president.

An evening of entertainment was furnished by Jerry Pander and his musicians, The Vocalists, and also a skit by Dale Currie and Henry Willhausen of Neshannock township caused much laughter and merriment.

Prizes were distributed during the evening and the display tables were full of lovely articles of needlework, handicraft and sweets. An added entertainment, Mm Le Normand, nee Martha Bigley, was in charge of the fortune booth and predicted the future for members and guests. This proved highly amusing.

Members in charge of the kitchen committee included the ladies of the auxiliary. Proceeds for the evening were contributed to the benefit of the Neshannock fire department.

Tries Riding Atop Diesel Engine

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Dec. 6.—(INS)—There are lots of ways to get to Washington in this day of modern travel—but 49-year-old Howard Upton wasn't satisfied with any of them.

So he tried something different. Upton was riding high on top of the Diesel locomotive of the New Haven Railroad's Boston-to-Washington flyer, "Hellgate," when he was spotted and hauled down.

Today Upton is working out a $5 fine, but he promised he'll get to Washington in time for President Truman's inauguration next month.

As for his choice of a seat on the New Haven express, he said somewhat cryptically that getting on top of the locomotive was "a cinch."

It was nice and warm, too, Upton maintained—the engine exhaust providing his heat.

Princess Having Too Gay A Time?

British Ponder 'Fun-Loving' Program Of Beloved 'Little Sister' Of Royal Family

LONDON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Britishers forgot about rationing, high taxes and other postwar worries today to debate the burning question of whether 18-year-old Princess Margaret Rose—beloved "little sister" of the Royal family—is having too gay a time. The fun-loving princess' frequent excursions into cafe night life has caused the newspapers to wonder in print if she is overstepping the bounds of decorum. The Sunday Pictorial was particularly sharp in calling attention to Margaret's night-time stepping.

It said that the princess was being seen too much at dances, doing the Samba in a daring low-cut, off-the-shoulder gown, and added sternly: "Four times in the past week she did not return to Buckingham Palace until very late."

The princess, it also appears, may be having her domestic difficulties over use of make-up and choice of clothes, as well as the question of getting in before midnight.

The queen is reported critical of her daughter's behavior but Margaret, like a true princess, insists on having her own way. Margaret's actions, unhampered by her sister's giving birth to an heir to the British throne, is said to flow naturally from the fact that she has now "become of age."

Perfume in flowers is formed from special gland cells which produce the sweet-smelling substances, usually at the base of the petals.

the annual Christmas gift exchange. The Christmas program will be under the direction of Mrs. Marian Wallace and Mrs. Winifred Baird.

Stalemate In Greece Reported

President Truman's Report Criticizes Failure Of Greek Army Leaders

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—President Truman submitted to Congress today a report sternly criticizing Greek army leaders for failure to conquer Communist guerrilla forces despite ample American aid.

Mr. Truman said that a "military stalemate" has developed in Greece instead of the victory over the Communists which once seemed so close.

The president made the statement in transmitting a state department report on the Greco-Turkish aid program which flatly blamed faulty Greek leadership for the reverse.

Infinitely assailing the Greek army's lack of initiative and failure to make proper use of the supplies and military counsel made available by the United States, the state department report declared:

"The Greek forces must now devote themselves to additional training and to development of leadership in all echelons."

The report accused the Greek army of "failure to make a determined effort to liquidate the guerrillas" rallying in the Vitsi area after the Communist defeat in the Grammos mountains operation.

Preparing For Scene In D. A. R. Play At Y. W. C. A. Saturday

Godoy's Lady's Playett held the interest of the D. A. R. during their meeting Saturday afternoon. Picture above is a scene from the Playett. Shown is Mrs. Jacob Rentz examining the hem of the skirt of Mrs. Marian Diehl of Canfield, Ohio, leading lady of the play and Mrs. Albert Chambers of Canfield who played the part of a cousin.

In the auditorium of the YWCA Saturday afternoon, members of Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and their guests were taken in fancy back to the days of Godoy's Lady in the late '70s, when they saw the delightful Godoy's Lady's Playett presented by the Canfield Players.

As the young lady of fashion of 1878 modeling her trousseau for her cousin Ada, Mrs. M. M. Diehl gave a charming portrayal. The role of Cousin Ada was taken by Mrs. Albert Chambers of Canfield, who originated the playlet.

In an informal but professional manner, Godoy's Lady paraded before the eyes of an audience that filled the room to capacity, a parade of the latest creations of the year.

Rich costumes of brocade and taffeta with 'lovely garniture', the proper 'good black dress', a succession of becoming bonnets, each to go with its particular costume, were modeled. Shown, too, were the items of lingerie in the trousseau of the properly outfitted young lady of those times.

Climaxing the showing was the wedding gown, extremely elaborate, that took two dressmakers working steadily for three months to make.

Interspersing the changes of costume and dialogue were songs by Mrs. William J. Caldwell, who sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", "While Strolling Through the Park One Day", Brahms' "Lullaby" and "I Love You Truly". Mrs. Jay L. Reed was at the piano.

Funds for benefit of the school will be turned over to the Kure Duncan Smith school to provide a water system for the school, the first it has had. This school is supported by the D. A. R. and it is the state D. A. R. project for the year.

Ways and means committee in charge of the presentation were Miss Katherine Foulke, Mrs. Charles H. Johnson, Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Mrs. William G. Eckles, Mrs. Clarence Fisher, Mrs. Jacob F. Rentz, Mrs. Frank Moorehead, Mrs. DeGrimm Rendrew, Mrs. Robert Meade Patterson, Mrs. James T. Ray and Mrs. Gust Sanfilippo.

Prayer led by Mrs. Dale Mullen, the pledge of allegiance to the flag and singing of the Star Spangled Banner led by Mrs. Caldwell opened the meeting.

Mrs. Henry E. Golder, regent, presiding, turned the meeting over to Mrs. W. W. Campbell, who in turn introduced the Canfield Players.

Next meeting of Lawrence chapter will take place in January.

Washington

No Decision On New Cabinet

Report No Definite Changes As Yet Decided Upon By Truman

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special To Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Truman is devoting much time these post-election days to consideration of the cabinet which will serve him in his second administration.

Top Washington observers, with access to White House sources, believe the president has as yet made no definite decisions about replacements—which loom eventually in the spots now occupied by Secretary of State George C. Marshall, Defense Secretary James Forrestal and Interior Secretary Julius A. Krug.

The other cabinet posts are more likely to remain as they are—with Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder, Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson, Agricultural Secretary Charles Brannan and Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin more or less certain to stay.

Marshall wishes to retire after formation of the North Atlantic Alliance. The president may ask Supreme Court Justice Fred M. Vinson to step down from the bench and take the job, draft Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, or perhaps, even turn to a Republican, such as Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

There has been no decision on who will succeed Forrestal. When Forrestal goes, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall and Navy Secretary John Sullivan probably will go with him. Missouri-born Air Secretary Stuart Symington is likely to remain. Mentioned as a possible Forrestal successor is Senator Chan Gurney (R), South Dakota. Senator defense committee chairman.

Krug may be succeeded by defeated Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington—or the president may reappoint former Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, who did yeoman service for the Truman campaign in its closing days.

Free Booklet Explains How Hard Of Hearing May Be Helped

An authoritative booklet about the causes of deafness and what can be done to help those with impaired hearing is available to the public, according to an announcement made yesterday by Western Electric.

A booklet, called "Modern Science and Your Hearing", is based on information supplied by scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories. A spokesman for Western Electric declared that "I feel that this booklet is almost required reading for every deafened person."

Free Copies Available

"Modern Science and Your Hearing" is available free, to anyone sending his name and address to Western Electric, Dept. 380-5, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. Those interested are urged to write in now while the present supply of this valuable booklet lasts.

are far less upset than might be expected concerning the Chinese government's military reverses.

They do not like to see the Communists making much headway against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops in northeast China, but they think it may all turn out for the best.

Withdrawal of Chiang's forces from Mukden, capital of Manchuria, was long urged by these strategists before the capital's fall.

They contend that Chiang should consolidate his forces, knock the Communists out of central China, and then move northward and finally take over Manchuria.

In fact, these strategists are firmly convinced that the weakness of the Nationalist armies to date is simply that they are spread too thinly over a large area. This is one of the reasons for opposition in Washington to larger aid grants to China.

Now, however, it is anticipated that China's Nationalist forces will consolidate—of necessity. If the generalissimo decides to make a fight along the lines of American strategy, there may be a sharp change in the administration outlook on aid.

Don't be surprised if Senator Robert A. Taft (R), Ohio, takes the Senate minority floor leadership—despite predictions of the experts that he would not be interested.

It is true that if the Republicans had won the Senate, Taft would have refused the majority floor leadership. Under those circumstances, he could have exerted more influence as GOP policy committee chairman.

His situation shapes up differently, however, in a Democrat-controlled Senate. A minority policy chairmanship is not a strong position in relation to party's affairs.

On the other hand, Vice President-Elect Alben Barkley, as minority leader in the last Congress, was by all odds the strong man on the Democratic side of the aisle.

So it seems highly likely that Taft will take the Republican floor, rather than policy leadership. This will be a jolt to some of his colleagues, particularly Acting Floor Leader Kenneth Wherry (R), Nebraska.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CREE

Arthur Godfrey probably would still be just a routine radio announcer today had he not arisen one morning nursing a dreadful grouch. He had to go on the air at 7 a. m.—and it was bitter cold and dark in the deserted studio. Suddenly he blew his top. "Isn't it ridiculous," he rapped into the microphone, "to be playing the William Tell overture at an hour when anybody with sense is getting some much-needed sleep?"

There followed a crashing sound over the air. Godfrey had broken the record into bits. "There!" he said. "If the boss is listening, you can bet I won't be here tomorrow. But shucks, who ever heard of a boss that listened at seven in the morning?"

When Godfrey was summoned to the boss' office four hours later, he confidently expected his walking papers. Instead, the boss assured him, "They tell me you were a riot this morning, Arthur. That's the kind of thing we want on this station. Keep it up!" Thus a new radio star was born.

Psychologists generally agree that the average person reaches his highest state of mentality at about 11 o'clock in the morning. Various tests have proved that the mind is much less active when a person is fatigued.

MUGGS AND SKEETER

BY WALLY BISHOP

Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6.—Russell Simpson is a human hair rack.

The veteran character actor who has portrayed bearded patriots since making his stage debut 33 years ago, is a victim of Hollywood's passion for hirsute adornment.

But he is growing younger on the screen while he gets older in real life.

In his current flicker Simpson plays the grandpappy of six-year-old Mary Monica MacDonald, who plays Betty Grable as a kid.

Always Bearded

Every morning, immediately after punching the timeclock at 20th Century-Fox, the tall red-haired gent who will be 68 in a few weeks, has his locks whitened and a mustache pasted on his nose.

"This," said Simpson, "is one of the few times that I have done a role without sporting a beard. I've been a human wig, beard and mustache rack ever since my first films for the old Kalem and American Biograph studios in New York in 1915."

In his day Simpson has rivalled both the Smith Brothers, Charles Evan Hughes and Man Mountain Dean in the luxuriance of his artificial facial crop. His mustaches have ranged the gamut from the dapper to the king-size walrus variety.

He said:

"I will wager my old age pension that no other actor in pictures has had more hirsute pieces attached to various portions of his noggin."

"I had my hair whitened since the days when white shoe polish was the only temporary dye make-up men knew about."

"I've worn beards of every conceivable description. Vandykes, full flowery brushes, chin and mutton chop whiskers have been glued on me."

Real Pioneer

Recalling that he has been making movies without a let-up since the days when they manufactured a flicker a day, Simpson allowed as how he had to delve into the higher calculus realm to figure the number of human hairs it took to keep him in character.

One night while suffering from insomnia, Simpson figured that each false hairpiece he has worn came from the head of a different dame and that about 2,500 female craniums thus were denuded to keep him properly bearded.

His calculating grew astronomical:

"In my 600 plays and pictures it took an average daily time of 30 minutes to apply the beards, wigs and mustaches. Even on a four-day-a-week working schedule for 33 years that adds up to 132 days each annum, or a total of 121,800 minutes spent gluing on hair."

"And that means that a couple of years of my life have been spent having hair pasted on and pulled off."

That's why working in "The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend" is such a pleasure to the veteran actor. No muss, no fuss. Simply a mustache and a little white at the temples.

Dried apricots and prunes make wonderful tasting quick breads to serve with cool summer salads. When the weather is hot and stifling, you can keep the bread fresh for days by wrapping it in wax paper and then storing it in the refrigerator. Dried fruit makes it moist and delicious.

Mail Early Is Hanna's Warning

Residents of New Castle Community Urged To Get Early Start

LAST MINUTE JAM CAN BE AVOIDED

Postmaster William R. Hanna today appealed to local residents to plan to mail all Christmas greeting cards and gift packages "just as early in December as possible".

An even heavier flood of Yuletide mail is expected this Christmas than during the record-breaking 1947 holiday season. "If you postpone mailing to the last minute this year," the postmaster warned, "you risk disappointing your friends. Your holiday messages and gifts may be caught in the rush and perhaps not delivered until after Christmas."

Early Mailing Vital
All packages should be mailed before December 10 to assure delivery before Christmas Day, he said. Christmas cards for out-of-state delivery should be in collection boxes at least a week before December 25. Merchants should see that calendars and advertising matter for before-Christmas delivery are in the mails not later than December 8.

Early Christmas mailing is extremely vital, the postmaster said, because handling the Christmas mail load is divided into three phases. First, the mail for out-of-town must be collected and dispatched by rail and air. Then delivery of Yuletide greetings being exchanged locally becomes the big job. Finally there is the last-minute flood of cards and packages from out of town to be handled.

"Whenever these three operations overlap there's a jam in the post office and deliveries are delayed," the postmaster declared. The post office is already making emergency preparations to meet the Christmas rush and has stocked up with thousands of bright new postage stamps for the Christmas mail. People should stop in during the coming week and purchase the extra stamps they're going to need.

The postmaster also pointed out that parcel post packages cannot be accepted unless stoutly wrapped and advised shoppers to lay in supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, heavy cord and printed fourth-class labels. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. The address should be repeated inside the outer wrappings in case the wrapper should become torn.

Missing Hunter Is Found Dead

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Dec. 6.—(INS)—A week long search for a missing 76-year-old deer hunter ended today when the body of Ray H. Richards was brought back to Brookville, Pa.

Richards' body was found Sunday in a woods a few miles from the Orchard Club lodge in Jefferson county. He had been hunting with a DuBoise, Pa., group last Monday and apparently had become lost in the woods. State police said it appeared the retired contractor had died of natural causes but an autopsy would be held later.

Over 500 hunters and national guardsmen had participated in the search throughout Jefferson and Elks counties. Saturday night Ray H. Richards Jr. had offered a $1,000 reward to anyone who found his father.

Work is nearly completed upon a filter washing tank for the New Castle Water Company.
The tank is a 75,000 gallon affair and is located at the company's plant on the Shenango River. Its purpose is to provide water for the washing out of the filters from time to time and thus take some of the load from the pumps.

Enon Valley Scouts Receive Eagle Scout Awards Here

Presentation of Eagle Scout awards to John Gordon and Daniel Strouhecker climaxed the evening's program at the annual Boy Scout tureen dinner Saturday night at the Cathedral.

Scoutmaster Roy Craven of Troop 30 in Enon Valley presented the highest award that can be won by a scout to the two members of his troop who had earned the distinctive honor. The boys' mothers received the pins from Craven and pinned them on the uniforms of the boys.
More than 500 scouts and their mothers attended the dinner that also honored the scouts and cubs that have enrolled since the first of September. These new members received miniature pins and roses that they in turn presented to their mothers.

Other Awards
Other awards presented after the group had enjoyed a delicious dinner, include star scout pins for Alan Chamberlain, Jennings Grabe, Robert McCollough, Samuel Ralston, and James Kennedy. Arthur Turek presented these awards which require the successful completion of five merit badge courses.
Seven scout leaders were honored at the dinner for completing the six-week course in advanced scout leadership. Those earning this award were N. J. McCluskey, Ray Zeigler, C. R. Kennaday, Keith Van Fossan, Herbert Rodgers, Alan Chamberlain and Lee Whiting.
Richard Travers was also honored for his appointment as senior patrol leader.
Troop 3 presented a drama on the history and significance of scout badges. The short play was entertaining, educational and well received by the scouts and their guests.
Council President Thomas Paden was called on for a few brief remarks before the program came to a close with the singing of "God Bless America".

RECKLESS DRIVING
David B. Sankey, Greenville, was charged by city police Saturday with reckless auto driving in East Washington street, Butler avenue and Croton avenue, before Alderman J. C. Kennedy. He was fined $10 by the alderman.
Cruiser Policemen H. L. Richards and Delbert Weiss claim they pursued him, making the arrest in Croton avenue.

WEDNESDAY NOON'S MEETING
The New Castle Kiwanis club will be mostly entertainment, with a splendid motion picture, "Wheels Across Africa", the program. This feature is furnished through the courtesy of J. R. Rick of Rick Motor company, and will be shown by a former Kiwanian, Wayne Harper. We have received favorable comment from other service groups on this picture.

INJURIES KNEE
Mrs. Elizabeth Houston, 50, 719 Cunningham avenue fell in her home, Sunday at 2:30 p.m., and was injured in the right knee. She received treatment at the New Castle Hospital, but was discharged.

Colts Defeat
Buffalo Bills
In Pro Upset

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The Buffalo club of the All-American Conference is pro football's latest enigma.

The Bills were favored to beat the Colts at Baltimore yesterday and clinch the eastern title. But the colts swamped the Bills 35 to 15.

As a result, the two teams now are tied for first place and will clash at Baltimore next Sunday for the right to meet Cleveland a week later for the league championship.

Many Seeking
Duquesne Job

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The boom was on today for two district coaches whom friends would like to see appointed the new coach at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh.

Capable Pete Dimperio whose Westinghouse high school eleven has won the Pittsburgh City league championship for three straight years was bombarded with telephone calls Sunday. His admirers urged the popular mentor to apply for the job.

Many Are Mentioned
The Dukes freshman coach, Phil Awesh, was receiving the same treatment from his friends. He is a former Duquesne halfback and coached previously at Canonsburg, Pa., high school.

But a source close to Duquesne officials claimed the "first offer" would go to Hugh Devore, St. Bonaventure coach, who was in Pittsburgh over the weekend.

FIVE JUNIOR CHURCH
CONTESTS SATURDAY

Four games in the National League and one in the American made up the Saturday card in junior church basketball.

Bender led St. Paul to a 31-to-28 victory over the First Baptists in a national contest. Other results in that league were Epworth 15, Croton 14. McGaffie was higher scorer for the winners and Milliken's efforts topped the losers. Shewman was high man for First U. P. as they trounced Third U. P. 40 to 32. McKay was high for the losers. In the other national league affair, St. George tripped S.S. Alliance 28 to 19. Kagnos was high for St. George and Crum topped the Alliance scorers.

In the American league contest A.Z.A. walloped Central Presbyterian 49 to 4. P. Greenberg and Kulkin shared A.Z.A. scoring honors.
